The challenge to HealthSearch Partners: find a Chief Financial Officer that understands how to work within a children's hospital system.

Rick Merrill, President and Chief Executive Officer, further explained the characteristics of the person needed to fill the CFO position. He explained:

"Working at a children's hospital requires a person who is called. It is beyond a commitment - an intangible that brings you back to work every day. Families in our system have children with significant diseases and complications. Our CFO must understand government reimbursement, regulations and rules while ensuring we have adequate resources available to meet the financial circumstances of our families."

Merrill had worked with HealthSearch Partners previously in other searches:

"I have known Keith for a number of years so I did not hesitate to contact him for this search. He understood that I needed someone who was a numbers person with a heart for working with children and their families."

The search went well. Merrill commented:

"The process was methodical, thoughtful and deliberate. I never felt like we were behind, and the lines of communication were always good. Keith and I touched base often."

The results were on target, according to Merrill:

"Finding top notch talent for a top position in a tight market was not easy. HealthSearch Partners did a tremendous job, and I would not hesitate to contact them again."
